

Pele: God of Football goes to Heaven

December 29, 2022: Edson Arantes do Nascimento (1940-2022) left this world at the Albert Einstein Hospital in his hometown in Brazil's Sao Paulo, where he had been admitted since November 29.

Pelé once told Alex Bellos, the co-author of his autobiography, "Pelé": "Edson is the person who has the feelings, who has the family, who works hard, and Pelé is the idol. Pelé doesn't die. Pelé will never die. Pelé is going to go on forever. But Edson is a normal person who is going to die one day."
