

Wilders' party: in 2023, doubles the number of seats, it won in 2021

November 24, 2023

EDITORIAL COMMENTS: www.DiGiNews360.com has brought to you information about the fissures¹ (Please see Note.1 on the last page.) in democratic societies, which have been graphically brought out by the Israel-Hamas war.

www.DiGiNews360.com has shown that the Canadian democracy is slowly losing its capability to protect its citizens from the threats and depredations of organized mafias, created and/or supported by dictatorial regimes and military juntas in the non-democratic countries.

Australia, Europe and USA also have powerful groups, though these may not yet have the support of the public opinion and the governments, which are mis-using democratic freedoms in their efforts to unashamedly mount public protests in favor of inhuman and barbarian acts by Hamas terrorists. www.DiGiNews360.com has published examples of such efforts in the 2nd part of "The Netherlands: Wilders' party: in 2023, doubles the number of seats, it won in 2021" dated November 24, 2023 from pages 2-4 at <https://diginews360.com/the-netherlands-wilders-doubles-the-number-of-seats-in-23/>.

The public intellectuals will have to re-think the ways of strengthening democratic societies so that every democratic society is not in a continuous civil war on even its fundamental values. www.DiGiNews360.com does not want the easy prescription of stopping all immigration, as required by some European political parties. We have to find ways of a faster conversion of human thinking of at least educated persons from 'my tribe/group as enemy of all other tribes/groups' towards the idea of 'one Globe-one humanity'.

Instead, in every democratic country, the public intellectuals must strengthen the democratic systems so that in case of adverse circumstances, the system does not fail like a house of cards. Thus, in the Netherlands, the people have to be educated to learn to modulate their thinking to avoid the large fractionalization of Political parties so that a new government can come to office immediately after the elections.

November 22, 2023: Scheveningen, the Hague, the Netherlands: Question by the Readers of www.DiGiNews360.com:

Will the “Dutch Trump” be the next Prime Minister of the Netherlands?

On July 7, 2023, a snap election was called after the fourth Rutte cabinet collapsed on July 7, 2023 due to disagreements on immigration policy. The election was held on November 22, 2023. The Party for Freedom (PVV) led by Geert Wilders won the election with the largest number of seats in the House of Representatives. PVV secured 23.6% of the votes and secured 37 seats.

Prime Minister of the Netherlands:
Mark Rutte (from: Oct 14, 2010)

Geert Wilders

The erstwhile Ruling Party, VVD, led by Dilan Yeşilgöz-Zegerius came third with 15.2% of the votes and secured 24 seats. The GL/PvdA party led by Frans Timmermans came second with 15.5% of the votes and secured 25 seats. The NSC party led by Pieter Omtzigt came fourth with 12.8% of the votes and secured 20 seats. The BBB party led by Caroline van der Plas won 4.7% of the votes and secured 7 seats.

The SP party led by Lilian Marijnissen and the CDA party led by Henri Bontenbal won 5 seats each with 3.1% and 3.3% of the votes respectively.

The DENK party led by Stephan van Baarle, the FvD party led by Thierry Baudet, the PvdD party led by Esther Ouwehand, the SGP party led by Chris Stoffer and the CU party led by Mirjam Bikker won 3 seats each with 2.3% , 2.2%, 2.2%, 2.1% and 2% of the votes respectively.

The Volt party led by Laurens Dassen won 1.7% of the votes and secured 2 seats. The JA21 party led by Joost Eerdmans, the BIJ1 party led by Sylvana Simons and the 50+ party led by Liane den Haan won 1 seat each with a vote of 1.0% or less than 1% for each of the three parties.

In Netherlands, the electorate is split into a large number of factions and is not able to converge to 2 or 3 parties. Hence, even in normal times, to create a coalition, which has a majority in the House of Representatives is a tough task and can take months.

In today's environment of financial stress caused by the Covid 19 pandemic and the Ukraine war, it is even more difficult.

Europe, led by liberal leaders like Angela Merkel and David Cameron tried to establish a multicultural society. They visualized one earth-one humanity, the slogan of Narendra Modi. Turks have migrated in large numbers to European countries, wherever they were able to get jobs. When the brutal civil war in Syria destroyed large cities, the refugees were accepted by USA, Canada and European countries, at the instance of European Union (EU).

Boats of Illegal migrants from Africa and other countries of the Global South used boats, operated by mafias in Libya and Morocco to reach Europe through Mediterranean sea. Kind and liberal leaders in Europe made arrangements to accept such migrants, to save them from drowning in the sea.

Liberal Democrats in Joe Biden's Presidency has made the southern border nearly open for refugees from all over the world, making the task of mafias of human traffickers easy.

FISSURES in SOCIETY: The project of creating a liberal multicultural society is not proving to be a big success. The immigrants, largely from its erstwhile colonies, have remained mired in the exclusive radical Islamic culture, as shown by the following examples:

November 24, 2023: Nantucket, Massachusetts : Protesters shout 'Free Palestine' at Biden in Nantucket: Joe Biden was met with shouts of "free Palestine" by a small crowd of protesters waiting for the President while he was away for Thanksgiving break. This showed that there is a large group of people, who differ from public opinion and the government's stand in the nation. This illiberal group is unable to condemn the barbaric behavior of the Hamas terrorists on 7th October 2023 due to their hatred for Jews.

President Biden and his wife Jill were leaving a hotel in Nantucket, Massachusetts, on their way to lunch on Friday 24 November when the incident happened.

A crowd had lined the street to see President Biden when a small number started shouting at him.

Earlier, the president delivered remarks on the Israel-Hamas hostage deal in a news conference, where he praised US diplomacy as an important part of the release of 24 hostages held by Hamas fighters.

Wednesday, 14th December 2022: fans clash in Paris after World Cup Semi-Finals “Racist Violence” in Paris: Football fans of France and Morocco clashed with police after France defeated Morocco in the World Cup 2022 semi-finals on Wednesday, 14 December, 2022.

At least 120 people were arrested in Paris and its surrounding areas, among them 40 far-right suspects who had been trying to reach the Champs-Elysees.

7th Jan 2015: Islamists Attack the Charlie Hebdo Office in France: The attack was carried out by two Islamist terrorists who entered the offices of the French satirical newspaper Charlie Hebdo and opened fire, killing 12 people and injuring 11 others.

7th Jan 2020: 5th Anniversary of the Attack on the satirical magazine Charlie Hebdo
Flowers outside the magazine's former Paris office reading: "Team Charlie Hebdo"
The French magazine's editor at the time, Stéphane Charbonnier, was among four cartoonists killed.

Notes:1. Please read “ Hamas terrorists find support among Muslim groups in democracies!” dated October 31, 2023 at <https://diginews360.com/muslims-in-democracies-support-hamas-terrorists/>. It showed that democratic processes were being exploited by those, who did not believe in the concept of a universal right of freedom of choice and life with dignity, to try to limit the freedoms enjoyed by the citizens of the democratic societies.
